Sponsorship Opportunities

The International Conference on Advances in Basic Sciences (ICABS-2019) has been aimed at providing a common platform to Experimental and Theoretical researcher of Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics, Materials Science and Nanotechnology from different part of India and abroad. We are very much sure that this will bring together researchers of different discipline to discuss the current understanding of variety of properties of materials known as well as progress in device fabrication and characterization.

The ICABS-2019 provides an opportunity to meet top scientists as well as young researchers dedicated towards contributing knowledge to the scientific world and sharing their ideas under one roof. This world-class event may have number of large and small exhibiting companies to share exhibit space and an audience of science community.
